Strategic Plan and Diversity Leadership

How does the firm's leadership communicate the importance of diversity to everyone at the firm?

We communicate and request participation in diversity related events by email and discuss at practice group meetings. Participation is also acknowledged in our quarterly internal newsletters and weekly "water cooler" internal emails, and annually at firm retreats.

Who has primary responsibility for leading diversity initiatives at your firm?

John L Williams and Daniel E Gomez, Partners

Does your law firm currently have a diversity committee?

Yes

If yes, does the committee's representation include one or more members of the firm's management/executive committee (or equivalent)?

Yes

If yes, how many attorneys are on the committee, and in 2015, what was the total number of hours collectively spent by the committee in the furtherance of the firm's diversity initiatives?

Total attorneys on committee: 2

Total hours spent on diversity: [No response]

Comments: Undefined currently. Two chairs draw support on an as needed basis. More formality is currently under process. We presently do not track hours spent on diversity initiatives.

Does the committee and/or diversity leader establish and set goals or objectives consistent with management's priorities?

Yes

Has the firm undertaken a formal or informal diversity program or set of initiatives aimed at increasing the diversity of the firm?

Yes

If yes, is it formal or informal?

Formal

How often does the firm's management review the firm's diversity progress/results?

Annually

How is the firm's diversity committee and/or firm management held accountable for achieving results?

To date, no formal accountability protocol has been established. The co-chairs of the diversity committee, however, are compensated, in part, for the time they dedicate to diversity efforts. In addition, at the annual attorney retreat, the co-chairs report on the diversity committee's progress and achievements for the year.

Is your firm minority-owned or women-owned?

No

Pipeline Initiatives

Does your firm actively engage in initiatives to feed the diversity pipeline by encouraging minority students to consider law as a career and/or assisting them in pursuing such opportunities?

- Participate in established pipeline programs, such as SEO, Legal Outreach, Prep for Prep or Street Law*
- Fund scholarships for minority high school or college students*
- Mentor high school or college students*
- Participate in or host mock trial programs or career events*
- Provide internships or employment to minority high school or college students*
- Outreach to middle school students*

Please discuss any additional efforts to reach out to diverse undergraduates, high school, middle school or grade school students.

The firm works with the University of Tulsa College of Law in hosting Minority Law Awareness Day inviting junior high, high school and college students to a full day program introducing these students to the legal profession. Lawyers at the firm participate in activities at the law school and the last event of the day is a visit to the firm's Tulsa office. Students are given tours of the firm, have a Q&A session with attorneys, and are guests at a reception held in their honor. Two members of Conner & Winters' diversity committee are also active in the Tulsa County Bar Association Diversity Development Committee and one of them is a past chair of that committee. The TCBA Diversity Development Committee focuses on pipeline building activities in the Tulsa community, including sending volunteer attorneys to participate in a panel discussing legal careers at a local high school with a high concentration of Black and Latino students. A member of the firm's Diversity Committee also serves as a Deputy Regional President for the Hispanic National Bar Association and as a Commissioner on the City of Tulsa's Hispanic Affairs Commission. Ancillary to this public service is to identify potential pipelines to Hispanic law students and possible lateral hires.

Retention and Professional Development

Please identify the specific steps you are taking to reduce the attrition rate of diverse attorneys.

- Develop and/or support internal employee affinity groups (e.g., networks within the firm for minorities, women, gay/lesbian attorneys, or individuals with disabilities)
- Increase/review compensation relative to competition
- Increase/improve current work/life programs
- Adopt dispute resolution process
- Succession plan includes emphasis on diversity and greater inclusion of non-white men and women in firm leadership
- Work with diverse attorneys to develop career advancement plans
- Introduce diverse attorneys to key clients, including to lead engagements
- Review work assignments and hours billed to key client matters to make sure diverse attorneys, particularly non-white attorneys (i.e., minority attorneys, for whom research indicates a greater inclusion problem), are not being excluded:
- Strengthen mentoring program for all attorneys
- Professional skills development program for all attorneys
- Provide a gender-neutral parental leave policy that covers adoptions
- Other (please specify)

Does your firm have part-time/flex-time policies that permit attorneys (male or female) to work alternative schedules?

Yes

Comments:

Requests are evaluated case by case, more than one attorney at the firm currently work flex schedules.

What impact, if any, will the decision to work part time have on an attorney's ability to make a partner, or if already a partner, to remain a partner at your firm?

None unless alternative to partner track is requested.

How many current equity partners have worked part time, exclusive of maternity/paternity leave or short-term disability?

1

The Firm Says

Medium-sized regional firms such as Conner & Winters which are located in the middle of the country are at a competitive disadvantage in recruiting minority law graduates since those who are well-qualified usually have multiple offers from firms in large cities offering substantially higher starting salaries. As a result, in addition to trying to recruit diverse candidates, our diversity program focuses on pipeline building activities in the hopes of increasing the candidate pool and in establishing relationships with minority students who attend law school in cities and states where we have offices. We are also focusing efforts on mentoring and retention. Finally, the firm is an active participant in the Tulsa County Bar Association's Diversity Development Committee and its outreach program to minority-dominated local high schools. Conner & Winters' efforts to increase diversity in the legal profession was highlighted by the award given in 2012 by the Northeast Oklahoma Black Lawyers Association to Anne B. Sublett, former chairperson of the firm's Diversity Committee in recognition for her "trailblazing work" and "commitment to principle without regard to personal costs."

In 2013, Daniel Gomez was awarded "Outstanding Young Lawyer" award by the Tulsa County Bar Association in part due to his chairmanship at TCBA Diversity Development Committee. He also has a leadership role in the Hispanic National Bar Association and attends the annual and mid-year conventions. He also serves as a mayoral appointee-commissioner on the Greater Tulsa Area Hispanic Affairs Commission.
